Dear Kelly,

You thanked Me previously for My patience. I'm not sure You fully appreciate just how patient and forgiving I've been. I don't legitimately believe for one second that everything that was done to the Beneficiary was not intentional. I don't believe it is reasonable or foreseeable that so many Trusted public servants could be so coordinated in their incompetence as to continually accidentally benefit the not for profit landlord at the Beneficiary's expense for over five years. That's a very convenient mistake for Multifaith Housing Initiative.

Despite all of that, I have told You very plainly and very clearly that if You Show some Good Faith and start Acting in the best interest of the Beneficiary as You were Trusted to do ab initio, I Will presume none of this was intentional and forgive Your egregious trespass.

But if Lili can't Show that she is Acting in the best interest of the Beneficiary now and making sure that he receives every penny he was Entitled to receive, I Will presume You are all colluding together with criminal intent to cause the Beneficiary additional undue economic harm and aggravation by refusing to make this egregious breach of Trust right.

If I am compelled to take legal Action against You and You do not voluntarily repay what was stolen from Sean's basic needs and offer him an apology for Your trespasses, I Will also be as King to have each of You criminally prosecuted in addition to the civil liability.

I am officially out of patience.

Thank You,

King Sean, House von Dehn,
Hand of Stephen,
The Kingdom of Heaven Found a Sean
